Beaune,

Capital of Burgundy wines. Its history, its gastronomy, its Hôtel-Dieu, its great wine estate and their miles of cellars...

For 163 years, it catches all eyes during its famous Hospices wine sale auction, which remains today the largest in the world.

With its 413 ha of vines, Beaune was the reference wine of the Dukes of Burgundy since the Middle Ages.

The whites being rarer, with only 44Ha, they will however be highlighted on certain favorable soils.

Maison Joseph Drouhin is lucky today to own more than 20ha of this historic appellation (including certain emblematic terroirs like Beaune 1^{er} cru « Clos des Mouches », Beaune 1^{er} cru « Grèves », etc.)
